

Guidance on the Knowledge Test

In order to provide a safe and efficient service to members of the public it is important that drivers have a good working knowledge of the area in which they work. Because of this, all new applicants are required to pass a local Knowledge Test before their licence can be granted. If you are unsuccessful on the first attempt an administration fee of £14.07 will be charged for further tests.

You should read the information on this page carefully to help you pass the test. You will also need a good understanding of the Highway Code as well as Craven District Council's Rules and Regulations for Hackney Carriage and Private Hire licensing as set out in our Taxi Policy which can be found on our website at the bottom of the following page <https://www.cravencd.gov.uk/licensing/taxi-and-hackney-carriages/applying-to-be-a-taxi-driver/>

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: It could be argued that with modern GPS and most jobs being booked in advance, that routes can be studied on a map by the driver or simply given to him by the operator before the customer is collected.

A: As a driver, you are required to collect passengers on time (unless of course you may be delayed because of a road accident or major traffic congestion etc.)

On a busy night, you will not be on time for all your pickups if you have to keep stopping in between jobs to look at a map.

It is far quicker and less stressful for both you and your Operator if you obtain some local knowledge of the area before you start work. In theory, jobs booked in advance with specified locations should be easy enough to carry out but in reality this is not always the case. Passengers often change their minds about routes or ask for extra drop offs.

Sometimes these passengers are not in a position to describe to you the exact route to take to that additional drop off point. Again, you would have to study your map causing even more delay, all in addition to the extra time it will take you to make the already extended journey.

Q: Why do I need to answer questions on the Highway Code when I have already done this to obtain my DVLA driving licence?

A: Whilst the Local Authority does not believe there is a need for you to be tested to a great depth on matters relating to the Highway Code, it does recognise that over time it is easy to forget some of the rules of the road. The Authority's overriding concern is for the safety of the public. Because of this there will be questions regarding the Highway Code contained in the Knowledge Test to serve as a refresher for applicants. We advise that you therefore re-familiarise yourself with the Highway Code before sitting the Knowledge Test.

Study tips

We advise that you obtain a good working knowledge of the local area (including key locations inside and outside Craven District Council) before attempting the Knowledge Test.

In order to help you study for your test you should consider the following:

- Spending time in the local area and studying maps
- Using the internet and/or the telephone directory to research the names of the roads on which local landmarks or bars, restaurants, schools etc. are situated
- Re-familiarising yourself with the Highway Code
- Read the Craven District Council's Taxi Policy.

You will be notified in writing if you have passed or failed within 7 working days. If you fail you can sit the test again up to a maximum of 3 times. If you are unsuccessful after 3 attempts you must wait 12 months before retaking the test.

Craven Area Knowledge example

You will need to be able to describe how you get to points of interest and drop-off points in Craven in using the shortest route possible. For Hackney and Combined driver applications the vehicle is parked on Swadford Street Taxi Rank facing down Swadford Street down towards Broughton Road.

For Private Hire applicants – for the purpose of the test the vehicle is parked on the high street by the Statue of Sir Mathew Wilson facing towards Holy Trinity Church.

Below are two examples showing different ways in which to describe the journey, these examples start from Swadford Street. You may use road names and numbers if you know them but if you don't then you can use landmarks and features to describe the journey, or a mixture of both.

Please note that an answer will be incorrect if:

- You describe a journey that is not the shortest route
- You take a route that would require any manoeuvre or turn which is not allowed e.g. U turn on Swadford Street.

Example 1

How do you get to Carleton?

Sample answer 1: Down Broughton Road, turn right onto Carleton New Road after Herriotts, turn right on to Carleton Road at the T junction which you then follow for a couple of miles and arrive into Carleton.

Sample answer 2: From the rank over the bridge take the first left drive past Tesco and the top junction drive past the petrol station. At the lights take a right then follow the road, passing the driving test centre, then the Brooklands estate and continue along the road for a couple of miles before arriving into Carleton.
